There are some things I have learned in my recent past
That I'm excited to share with you tonight,
And one thing I've realized is that we all want to leave Behind a legacy;
We all want to be remembered for something.
And then I was thinking going, "How can I be remembered?"
And then I suddenly realized you can do it on a daily
Bases,
Even if it's one on one with people.
For example, the other day, I saw a young boy,
And he was eating an ice cream cone,
I ran up and I smashed it into his face,

I leaned in, I go, "You remember me forever!" and I ran Away.
Cause you know when he's 50, he's gonna be like,
"One day a man ran up to me, I did not know this man,
He smashed my treat into my eyes. And he pointed and
Said,
"You fuckin remember me forever."
But I did not say fuckin, I did not say that.
He added fuckin to make the story more intense and Interesting.
He deserves to have ice cream smashed in his face,
Cause he's a lying 50 year old man. I did NOT say fuckin.
