In the night...
When you're searching for the light
The city streets are flashing in the dark...

Sun was rise...
And the desperation can flies
But she's been wait too longer than a light...

Now she cries...
Unhappy cries...

Breakdown!
What am I suppose to do right now?
Breakdown!
Without her...
A breakdown!
And the memories are burning down...
Breakdown!
I'm loosing you...

In the day...
When a morning fades away
And you have nothing more than empty hands...

You're alone...
And you're gazing at the phone
You're surely realized now
But she's gone...

Now she's gone...
Oh, yes she's gone...

A breakdown!
What am I suppose to do right now?
Breakdown!
Without her...
A breakdown!
And the memories are burning down...
Breakdown!
I'm loosing you...
