Time after time, i lost my head. the cold freezes every breath. only words i never meant would linger (never fading away). i said way too much, too much time was lost. nothing ever came out right. it should be so easy, it's been running through my mind. time after time, i lost my head. the cold freezes every breath. only word i never meant would linger (never fading away). you aren't coming back. you won't ever feel the same. don't want to hear it again, but tonight, just let me say it right. but from where i stand nothing seems to have changed. my mistakes are bigger than i thought they would be. where does it leave us? better yet, where do we go from here? the days still pass and we haven't talked at all. will i ever say what's right? still running through my mind.
