Been kicking around in the same parts of the same town
Now all my friends have had their face replaced with a stupid frown
Keep looking for ways to explain away the pain in my brain
Stopped hooking myself up to decay lame in the mainframe
Get out of my face and off my case 'cause you're in my space
You're heading the wrong way to a bad day in a sad place
I'm making the sole claim to the full blame for my own fame
Stop keeping down now like a bad hound 'cause I'm not tame

Don't think about me now
I don't need your help at all
Don't think about me now
You know you can't have it all

I'm slipping away like a cold beer on a hot day
Don't wanna get old here got to fold now 'cause I can't stay
I'm hitching the wrong way down the fast lane of the highway
You're screwing it your way and I can't help do it my way
Keep jumping around on the high ground to the low sound
I'm rolling a fat one with the half pound that I just 'found'
We're gonna get sky high with the fly guy in the tie dye
I'm hitting it hard now 'cause I can't see through my third eye

Don't think about me now
I don't need your help at all
Don't think about me now
You know you can't have it all

Don't think about me now
I don't need your help at all
Don't think about me now
You know you can't have it all
