"Honestly"

Visit "Honestly" on MotoLyrics.com

Look in my eyes, look at me now
Do you honestly expect me to roll over and lie down
See my face know my mind
Believe that all this bullshit only fuels my fire

And all our dreams will be the same one day
If we let go

No way back
What's your freedom for?
No way back
'Cause you can't buy your happiness when you are poor

And all the time they chip away
Making promises that never see the light of day
And all the things we think we need
If only we could see them as our enemies

And all our dreams will be the same one day
If we let go

No way back
What's your freedom for?
No way back

I try to turn the tide
There's nowhere left to hide

No way back
What's your freedom for?
No way back
'Cause you can't buy your happiness when you are poor
