Tell me something, tell me one of your lies
Sell me something, right in front of my eyes
Tunnel vision, now I'm blind I can see
Make me listen, tell me who should I be?

Now you're taking me for a ride
With the hope of a better life
Say you're giving me everything
All I want, all I need

You're just making promises
Promises, promises
Keep making promises
Promises, promises

Buy my freedom, from the choice on display
It's the real thing, you can have it your way
Life is empty, buy another today
World of plenty, twelve installments away

Now you're taking me for a ride
With the hope of a better life
Say you're giving me everything
All I want, all I need

You're just making promises
Promises, promises
Keep making promises
Promises, promises

No more lies, twisting up my desire
More lies...
