Here stands my castle on a cloud
Its easy going not a trouble around
Have i found my resting place
Is it here when i am down on my face

I didn't mean it, you'd never believe it
I never knew how things must change
I couldnt help it, i never did doubt it
That you'd still love me all the same

I'm not giving up
I've just had enough
I'm not going down
I am standing now
On Your Holy ground
I'm not going down

This solitude is breaking me
I've been kneeling here what seems an eternity
Does my patience have no worth
A stale virtue it stands undeterred

So lift me up
I'll leave all this behind me
So take me up
Take me up right now
