I'm giving more to you today
Leaving all this behind
Lending You all who i am
Can i give You all who i'll be
Though it may seem a fading light in the dark
This may take some time on my knees
My whole life if you know-if you know me
You'll have the time of your life
If you keep it all in stride
Now give it all that you have
And then we'll know

Lets go
Come on lets go
Give it all away

Will you walk where you have not been
Or deny all you've seen
Admit that you've given up
Simply surrender this time
There is no more to give but your life

Cause my God only knows how far you've come
This life isn't over no it's just begun
You'll have the time of your life
If you keep it all in stride
Now give it all that you have and then we'll know
