I've crossed the line again
Forgot to say or not to say
Something, stumbling on your pride
Like a cat you coil and spring
Then pounce on me flashing Irish eyes
I like the way you love me
I love the things you give
And even when I'm angry
You give me something to forgive

I love the way you love me
Reach for me, I'm here for you
You touch me, I'm touching you
Deeply, moving you from inside
With my mind and with my hands
I make no demands
I ask you to try
