When you walked out that door
I was so sure my world had ended
So sure I'd never get over you

On that first night alone
I cried so many tears it scared me
So many dreams that I had to let go
But now I know

That the world still turns and the sun still burns
And that's what I've learned without you
And the days roll on and my heart gets stronger too

Don't think I didn't love you
Just because I made it through
But I learned to love myself without you

I take myself to dinner
And I go to the movies solo
That's something I never did before

You may not understand this
But I don't wait on invitations
I'm not afraid of the great unknown
Of being alone 'cause the

The world still turns and the sun still burns
That's what I've learned without you
And the days roll on and my heart gets stronger too

Don't think I didn't love you
Just because I made it through
But I learned to love myself without you

I can even see myself
Falling in love with somebody else
Ready to take that chance again
'Cause I know now what I didn't know then

That the world still turns and the sun still burns
And that's what I've learned without you
And the days roll on and my heart gets stronger too

Don't think I didn't love you
Just because I made it through
But I learned to love myself without you

Don't think I didn't love you
Just because I made it through
But I learned to love myself without you
I learned to love myself without you
