I can't find the letters, you wrote to me in school And that shoebox full of photographs, got lost in my last move
I gave away that old twin bed, where you and I first laid But after all this time, I've still got the love we made

That old beat-up car, we dated in, has finally turned to rust
And the first rose that you gave me, has finally turned to dust
But all those tender nights we shared, are never gonna fade
Cos after all this time, I've still got the love we made

I re-feel every feeling, we felt when we touched Cos even though we fell apart, I kept a part of us

I've held on to every time, we held each other tight And promised, that no matter what, we'd never say goodbye
I don't have a souvenir, although I meant to save But right here in my heart, I've still got the love we made Right here in my heart, I've still got the love we made.
