(feat. Justin Timberlake)

[Reba:]

When the ground beneath you starts a shaking

Shaking

And you forget the place we came from

Came from

When your lost and looking for a way home

Your way home to me

I'll come out and find you

When the world around you starts a moving

Moving

And you should wonder if I still love you

Love you

If you feel a darkness coming

Rising inside

I'll make a light to guide you back home

[Together:]

And after all the sky is falling down

And after all the waters washed away

My love's the only promise that remains

[Reba:]

When your doubts have got you thinking

Thinking

Nothings ever really sacred

Sacred

[Together:] and you're afraid you might believe it

Believe in me

And I'll give you a region

Cause the world around us keeps on moving

Moving

[Reba:] and there's no doubt that

[Together:] I still love you

Love you

So when you feel a darkness coming

Rising inside

I'll make a light to guide you back home

[Together:]

And after all the sky is falling down
And after all the waters washed away
My love's the only promise that remains

[Reba:]

And after all the sky is falling down

[Justin:]

After all the sky is falling down

[Reba:]

And after all the waters washed away

[Justin:] after all the waters washed away

[Together:]

My love's the only promise that remains

Remains
