Let me just start off by saying
These were the best days ever lived
By a kid who didn't know what he was in for

Let me just say one thing
I never wanted this to end
But it did eventually and now you're gone

How is it so hard to bring you down?
Please stay away from me right now
You don't know what you're doing
You don't know who you're messing with
Me and my boys we run this town
So won't you get out before you find out

Now this fingers itching
To say something to make you hate me
All the words that might escape me

And this heart keeps racing
Catching up to lies that I've been chasing
All the while suffocating

Where did this go wrong, or right at all?
Please stay away from me right now
You don't know what you're doing
You don't know who you're messing with
Me and my boys we run this town
So won't you get out before you find out

Please stay away from me right now
You don't know what you're doing
You don't know who you're messing with
Me and my boys we run this town
Me and my boys we run this town
Me and my boys we run this town
So won't you get out before you find out
