Oh how sad for you
You have to live out your fantasies
Through this crappy game
Do you have no power of your own?

Why would you want to take over a world that's small,
boring and pointless
Why would you want to take over a world where you've been given permission to be uncontrolled

This is the same game as the first one, the only improvement is your brown minions can mount animals and you can sail in a ship sometimes

You have to live out your fantasies

Do you have no power of your own?

This is a lame game, there's nothing new here, you even have the same set of armour Your imps are neurotic, the controls feel robotic I'm stuck in the sweeping mechanic

Why would you want to take over a world that's small,
boring and pointless
Why would you want to take over a world where
you've

I hate this game, I hate this game, I hate this game, I hate this gaaaaammme
