"Rock Star"

I never took lessons, never broke a string but I can hammer on and pull off like I'm the real thing
I practice day and night for my living room
All the world's a stage and they're screaming my name,
They're screaming my name

I am a rock star, I'll rock you out with my plastic guitar
I am a rock god, I'll rock you hard with my buttons and knobs

I've got star power I hit every chord
It feels so good to be good at something everyone adores
Cause my gaming fingers have been somewhat ignored

I'm working my pinky like I'm a regular stud
I'm a regular stud

I am a rock star, I'll rock you out with my plastic
I am a rock god, I'll rock you hard with my buttons and
knobs

Watch me fly down the fretboard highway Watch me blow you away

I am a rock star and I will rock you out with my plastic guitar
I am a rock god and I will rock you hard with my buttons, my buttons and knobs

Just because I play a plastic guitar doesn't mean I'm not a rock star
