Shadows don't always conceal you
Shadows don't always protect you
They can see you through the dark
They can see right to your enemy heart

What's wrong with this story?
Won't you tell me again, what's her glory?

It's always the same
We buy and we sell
It's always the same
We buy and we sell
It's the same old game
We buy and we sell
Women and war

Handguns won't always protect you

Handguns won't get you very far
There's a whole army of them

And you're one woman fighting in the dark

What's wrong with this story?
Won't you tell me again, what's her glory?

It's always the same
We buy and we sell
It's always the same
We buy and we sell
It's the same old game
We buy and we sell
Women and war
