Give me something beautiful i'll believe your lies just tell me one thing is it worth the pain hey it's a miracle i made it out alive this house is empty much like my own advice everyone's got everyone now no one's without a theme burning bridges taste like ashes sing along and bury me there's something beneath your skin tempting all your senses from within and tell me where have you been all this time all this time buried under dear mother send me something good in the slight case that i might be so misunderstood and still you throw your pennies down i can't won't sound i'd like to watch this image burn give me something beautiful i'll believe your lies just tell me one thing is it worth the pain hey it's a miracle i made it out alive this house is empty much like my own advice so tell me i'm to die for all this time all this time buried under
