It's hard to see the sun go down
Watching out through covered windows It's hard to hear the slightest sound behind these padded walls this is freedom inside my prison sanctuary for my sanity locked up in sole confinement at last I'm free
As the old one sleeps below dorment through generations Every night you wake up screaming Grandfather
Dead but dreaming

You hear me calling out Obviously - you fear me
Every night I wake up screaming
It's me
Dead but dreaming
It's not hard to steal your mind reaching out from ancient ruinz it's not hard to hear your thoughts within my rotting tomb It's not hard to end your life using my tentacles
Locked up in sole confinement
until I'm free
