[M. Teske]

Whisper my name, scratch my back til I scream
Pulsating blood in our veins
Playing the game, sudden urge deep within
Never tried to break the stare, takin' the time

You might have been queen
Mistakes are unforeseen
You might have been queen

Follow the rules of mystical minds
A roleplay of pleasure and pain
Intimate secrets, keeping self respect
Got the right to stand tall, enlightened minds

You might have been queen
Mistakes are unforeseen
Seasoned with a sense of sin
You might have been queen

I seek the sun
Expose cheating minds
Or trust in the long search for truth beyond
Howl at the moon
Like a half-blinded dog
Did you ever believe in anyone else?
