He's watching her, she's dancing there Pressed up against the buyers and the willing Her moves so graceful, he can't embrace the structure That became her name Elaine, Elaine, that was her name

He knows he can't afford to be wrapped up in this system
This world where the most beautiful crime is a sin
He spoke the words you won't believe, said it all but so did she
But she's the liar but she's the liar here

Hello gorgeous, is he coming on too strong?
You just can't fight the rhythm, fight the rhythm Can't fight the rhythm, fight the rhythm Across these empty streets lie chapels the faith she's running after The faith she's counting on tonight, as he crawls slowly back there

Can you feel his presence beside you?
Can you feel his arms wrapped around you?
did she
But she's the liar, but she's the liar here

He gets his nerve and says calmly
To judge him fair and let him be
Let him be, considered

Set it aside, just run (Just run) Keep on running girl, he's right behind you Running girl, he's right behind you

Finding the time to compensate for all your actions (Just run)
Leave it now she's not attracted, leave it boy or she'll react then

Make her way to the train station, lay her head and let

god take her (It's been awhile since i've been this scared so unexpected
I never thought i'd have to run so far to get away from you

Make her way to the train station, lay her head and let
god take her
It's been awhile since i've been this scared so
unexpected
I never thought i'd have to run so far to get away from
you)

He looks for sympathy as he walks along this lonely passage
Only to find the one he loves running from his attachment
did she
But she's the liar, but she's the liar here

He gets his nerve and says calmly
To judge him fair and let him be
Let him be, considered

Make your way back home where it's safe, you're not alone
Make your way back home where it's safe, you're not
alone
Make your way back home where it's safe, you're not
alone
Make your way back home where it's safe, you're not alone
