(Dave Franklin)

(Holy, holy, holy.)

I hear a choir singing far away
They're singing in a church while people pray
The organ tones keep rising above
In a hymn of brotherly love.

I hear a choir join in harmony
Every voice rejoices for their hearts are free
I'll sing with the rest may our love once be blessed
I hear a choir far away.

(Spoken)

I hear a choir join in harmony
Every voice rejoices for their hearts are free
I'll sing with the rest may our love once be blessed
I hear a choir far away...
