

Red Goodbye "My Everything"

My everything, take it away
Cryptic nights don't guarantee escape from this place

How can my dreams become realities?
His answer's just a blank stare
Don't react now, just wait

We set sail on an ocean of moonlight covered dew
I can see the horizon
The day is breaking through
All my lingering doubts
Eradicated, they're wiped out
But it's all an illusion

Three years go by with flashes around me
Breathing deep and finding reason
Standing again

Making my way past all the mistrust
Those with doubt have little reason
But they will see

We set sail on an ocean of moonlight covered dew
I can see the horizon
The day is breaking through
All my lingering doubts
Eradicated, they're wiped out
But it's all an illusion
