"Love Is Atomic"

High above the mountain stream, low beneath the ground we walk on Far beyond our wildest dreams, closer than the inmost
heartsong
In the smile of a dearest friend, in the glare of an enemy
Stop once, twice, look again tell me now do you see what I see

Love is atomic Love is atomic

Holding everything in place, electrons, protons in their dance Ruling inner and outer space, lifetimes passing in a glance
In the brush of a solar wind, in the hush of understanding
I let go and begin to hear the world at its command sing

Love is atomic, autonomic, like the breathing of a new born baby
It's symphonic, how ironic the only holdouts are you
and me

ground we walk on
Far beyond our wildest dreams, closer than the inmost
In the smile of a dearest friend, in the glare of an
Stop once, twice, look again tell me now do you see
what I see

Love is atomic, autonomic, like the breathing of a new

born baby

and me

Love is atomic Love is atomic Love is atomic Love is atomic
