I came home last night and found a note next to your picture it said you were going to be away for a while it said you needed to be alone for a while you've been away for so long when are you, when are you coming back?

you've been away for so long when are you coming home?

6 months past and still no phone call 6 months past and still no letter 6 months and still no word from you do you even fucking care?
[Chorus]
a thousand dozen girls like a thousand dozen flowers, all smell and look so pretty I never heard of one just like this one this one is different, you are so different like a black eye susan your so different a thousand black susans and your the one

[Chorus]
