Dance, dance! Break out of that stance. You're stuck in this place where you'll waste away. Wake up! Get up now make a move! Don't do what they tell you to. Go! I thought we were going to meet tonight. I thought we'd grab a bite to eat. But you were no where in site. I guess you were lost into the night. I strained my eyes just looking for your face. The eyes all looked the same. If you'd just open up your eyes. We could try this again sometime. Go! And we can dance along the sidewalks, and see the faces of the walking dead stare at us with their shocking pride. Maybe we'll start a brand new trend. Everyone, dance! Dance hard! Here we go!
