The sickness took her away. It attacked the whole city.
Such damage has it done. Researchers search for a cure. It's too late for her. She's already gone. Such damage has it done! The sirens echo. Get set, ready, and go. They're racing to save you. The streetlights flicker. She only gets sicker. There's nothing we can do, but they're racing to save you! We try to act like, there's nothing wrong here. Oh, our people, our cities, they're all just fine. Everything's alright. Everything is fine. The sickness took her away. It attacked the whole city. Such damage has it done.
