Abusing fears for their politics
They capture us in reducing minds to seeing eyes
To escape this obligation just to think About their own faults - Nodding Not Asking
But we conclude that nothing is real except our chance
So we won't wait, to be precise:
We don't wanna miss it all They see the news on channel 2
This upcoming sensation, an imprint of the past
Start to ignore - it's new, it's strange, we are afraid
Don't see the chance - of opened cultures
But we conclude that nothing is real except our chance
So we won't wait
Why are we tortured for no other reason than their compulsions - of their own madness?
But we conclude that nothing is real except our chance
And we won't wait, to be precise:
So we won't wait - 'cause nothing is real except our chance
But we conclude - and we won't miss it all
