

Red Lights Flash "Making Choices"

Visit "Making Choices" on MotoLyrics.com

This contrast between sophisticated and material world
And one more simple called "primitive lifestyle"
That sound that came from my throat was just a sigh That's what we need? Is what we need to reject the renewal of the new?
We twist the fact
The menace is ourselves, a monstrous product of today
I'm feeling making choices is beyond my ability
We think that making choices is beyond our ability
To be in charge of dumb recognition:
The eye of a guardian? - that's about to snap!?
Where does all this mistrust surface from?
Do you see those flowers in concrete?
Where does all this inappropriate pomposity surface
from?
I'm feeling making choices is beyond my ability
We think that - making choices - is beyond our ability
That's about to snap!
I've seen your free declared intention, but not today
Elections hold and make them vote
You completely ignore the tension
Is what we need to reject the renewal of the new
Got it - got it- got it? - You got it!
I'm feeling making choices is beyond my - ability
To - Make - A - Choice, is beyond our ability.

Visit Red Lights Flash page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.