remaining under hopeless pressure feeling cold steel on their heads state is sitting on their backs - a burden that they can't throw off we always want to drag them
into a hole of desperation
we always want to drag them
into a hole with no way out you're a help in our soccer team and you're tax-paying - now we're friends being useful in election campaigns not talking about solidarity
we always want to drag them
they're watching us, watching us population shame on you i can't trust
