Another day to break out
Hiding proper faces Feeling so safe and superior
Like a hare in pursuit of the tortoise
They fooled us all by describing wordless things with thingless words
There's something wrong
10 years without a result
Each step they will weight and measure
A husk without content
Anyway - They believe we're on the nerge of a significant breakthrough
Enormous strides - this flood of externals
To exert some small degree over their fits of despair
Another day break out
Hiding proper faces There's something wrong
10 years without a result
Each step they will weight and measure
A husk without content
Why must it always be that late that we will follow suit
Each step they will weight and measure
A significant breakthrough:
