I've been in the middle of a brilliant plan
So lay down your weapons and salvage what you can
Make sure that everyone can understand
We've already won
We've already won
You've gotta believe it
We've already won
Here's to the courage of a perfect man
Here's to the bride that one day holds his hand
Here's to the bullet spit from the gun
Here's to the race we all have to run
Maybe it's too hard to live like this, too hard
But whatever you do don't lay down and quit
We've already won
We've already won
Lay down your good intentions
He's already won
