I hate to disappoint you
I hate to make you live like you do
You can't escape the reason
One way only to get you through
So run and hide
It's what you know
And see inside
It's what you get

Just tell me one thing
While you take it face down
Will you beg for it now?
Cause I want to know

Way too apathetic
Living the statistic ensues
With one too many feelings
With nothing left to help you get through
You cheat and lie
It's what you know
How sweet the sound
It's what you get

Just tell me one thing
While you take it face down
Will you beg for it now?
Cause I want to know

I hate to disappoint you
I hate to make you feel like you do
