"The Host"

I don't think you would believe me
If I told you everything they're conceiving
That you are the one they are deceiving
But you go ahead, keep on believing
Just close your eyes

Those parasites you let inside
Will tear your life apart in time
You're just the host with no control
This is all you've ever known
It comes as no surprise I failed to recognize the signs
Time to start running

I don't think you could forgive me
It's too hard and you're too lazy
So you hold it in, shut it out, let it build, feel it now?
This can't be undone
It's all the same, it's just a game
You gotta play, they're just having a little fun

Those parasites you let inside
They will rip apart your life
You're just the host with no control
This is all you've ever known
It comes as no surprise I failed to recognize the signs
Better start running

So let it out
Put it on me
Their unfulfilled promises
And what you taught
You haven't learned
And you think I'll burn?

Those parasites you let inside
They are ripping up your life
You're just the host with no control
That's okay, it's all you know
It comes as no surprise I failed to recognize the signs
Gotta keep running home
It comes as no surprise
I failed you, I failed you

But we gotta keep running home
