Well, I've been way so long
I'm too numb to dislike it
And L.A. is one big hit song
I never learned to fight it

Dear Caroline
It never meant to go this far
It started out to be a game
I never meant to be a star

And everybody smiles
But their eyes stare out so empty
From a face they scrub with dial
And the words that spill so fancy

Dear Caroline
I thought my songs would change the world
Instead of slowly getting rich
Off the emotions of young girls

And what really makes me laugh
Is that nothing is really changed
Since that day I left you years ago
To find myself a name

And what really makes me cry
Is that it's only an illusion
And all that success means
Is just money and confusion

I've been told you settled down
And found yourself a family
I'll send my latest record down
The critics tell me that it's happening

Dear Caroline
There's nothing really left to say
I hope you still remember me
After the songs all fade away

And what really makes me laugh
Is that nothing is really changed

Since that day I left you years ago
To find myself a name

And what really makes me cry
Is that it's only an illusion
And all that success means
Is just money and confusion
