Off the cuff, I said too much
Hear my voice and make your choice
Emotions become reasons
For a hateful heart

In the end you will find out
That I told you the truth
In The end there is nothing to forgive

Always seen as a hypocrite
Stand my ground, never turn around
Envision my religion
I'll bear my cross

In the end you will find out
That I told you the truth
In the end there is nothing to forgive

I hope you realize the lie
Look you in the eye, I'm standing by
A notion of devotion
A state of grace

That I told you the truth
In the end there is nothing to forgive
