Speak, show off, be the dummy they paid for New breed, new grounds you were searching for so long
You speak against drugs in public but when at home you share
Shit with friends. Practice what you preach, motherfucker

Even the slowest way of producing more of you takes too short.
Still wet your bed and look like a snot- already an icon for all You're working a perfect body, a perfect look-up all over again
Weak one with no balls repeating the same old cliché

No radio, no TV shit
You spent all your time doing this
A living commercial of what I've been hating You become So fuck the mainstream I say
No tricks I need to be played
I see how your fame's getting useless day by day

Buttfucked, playtoy, a ringtone selling popstar
An entertaining hero the zero heed my word
I found the answers to all questions
Fuck the mainstream, that's the essence of allâ€¦

Fuck the mainstream and fuck the TV
