Woke up
thought you were there couldn't find you anywhere i need to know where I can send
i made a card
for you, my friend
i cut out
a paper moon
put it on the corner of the sky underneath the clouds of glue i drew the sun for you
i'm here on delphi street where the houses connect and the people meet
it's near well nothing you would know it's not like the places we used to go after hours
under years
incomplete
full of fears
count sheep
go to sleep
you are complete
when laughter comes so easy it's not hard to feel so high when moments are like magic and you're feeling so alive you're reminded there is splendour in all it's revelry
that cannot be taken lightly it is not eternity
taking some time to remember
'cause nothing lasts forever
