Lately I've been wondering why
Why the hell you pass me by
Drag me up to say good bye
Won't you
It's clear you never ever came
Up against a bigger name
Talk about yourself again
Won't you

Lately I've been wondering why
Why the hell you pass be by
Drag me up to say good bye
Won't you
It's clear you never ever came
Up against a bigger name
Talk about yourself again
Won't you

And you decide
It's easier
To lose your head
Not keep it
Oh no

Slow down
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds
Just for now slow...

Down a bit before you see
Someone somewhere watching me
Whisper softly making me
Leave you

Only you could find a way
Try to win me back again
Show them you could make a change
Won't you

And you decide
That it's easier

To lose your head
Not keep it

So slow down now
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds
Oh just for now
Slow down

And you decide
That it's easier
To lose your head
Not keep it
That it's easier
Not keep it

Oh so slow down now
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds
You've always got your head in the clouds

Oh Lately I've been wondering why
