She's all alone
No one likes her anymore
Because some girl who's guy once looked at her
Said she was a whore
She's so scared
And condemned by jealous lies
And no one cares
No one answers when she asks why
Call her a slut they call her a whore
Never been with a guy before
17 and cast out by her so called friends
Call her a slut they call her a whore

Never been with a guy before
A jealous girl was searching for revenge
She sees them stare
She sees them point as she walks by Tries not to care but it's so damn hard
When there is no one on your side
All the guys
Write her name on the bathroom wall
For a good time
All you have to do is call
