i was waiting for the ringing
for the light to shine
i was expecting to be respected for my perspective
it doesn't really matter to me how far can i be over you i was waiting for the action, for your attention i want solutions, no revolution, only your dedication it doesn't really matter to you look my way and try to make me say goodbye

for the light to shine
for my prospective
look me in the eye before i let you high let me, let me, let me high don't let me down
