Stop jerkin off and eat your chicken baby
It's like a colony of hungry ants down here
So I keep dancing with this deadweight round my ankles
And it thickens every time I turn away
There's something spartan in the way we choose our
battles
There's something spartan in the way we cast our
stones
It takes a bit more than a kiss for the princess to awaken
And a bit less than a fuck for her to stay awake

So dont go away
Be my view for today
I just wanna see something lovely as I look outside my window it's
It's like a system here
Another day, another year
Another joke, another beer
And I'm sleeping through

Stop jerkin off and eat your chicken baby
It's a free country
We can be elitist if we want
They say if we phrase it right
They'll eat it off our fingers
And if we don't well then they won't

The astrologers look at a sky and point their fingers
And the philosphers look down at us and point their toes
Is it the way we close our eyes?
Is it our hair?
Is it the breathmints?
You know we speculate
But in the end do we really know?

So don't go away
Be my view for today
I just wanna see something lovely as I look outside my
window, it's

It's like a system here
Another day, another year

Another joke, another beer
And I'm sleeping through
(lots of ahs and oooooos)
Stop stop stop stop

Stop jerkin off and eat your chicken baby
Its like a colony of hungry ants down here
ankles
It takes something more than a kiss for the princess to
awaken

So don't go away
window, it's

Don't go away
I just wanna see something lovely
Man, I just wanna see something lovely
Another year, another year, another day
And I'm sleeping, I'm sleeping
I'm slippin through my fingers
