I'll sing it like I mean it Doesn't this sound like you wanted it to sound?
But our screen names tell another story

I'll write it how I feel it Is it spelt the way you wanted it to read?
But the liner notes will tell a better story now

And it's funny how you finally know we need to let go
And our eyes will lie but our ears will sell the truth to us both

If I write this verse like I know that you always wanted I'll lie like I mean it so scene kids all grab on to it And act like it's their own when they know nothing about us
But I'll sing my heart out and imply we're all part of this now
