When the night is done
And when we greet the sun
You know there's no one
I'd rather see
Than you by me
I'd wear my poet suit
If it helped me steady you
Oh when you need me to
I'd soothe your mind
And with a lover's view
I'd write a song or two
That I would sing to you
A million times
If you asked me to
So come and rest your thoughts with me
Underneath the cypress tree
We can watch the moon and stars shine at their finest
Let the rest say what they may
I'm a mere heartbeat away
And you will always be the object of my kindness
You know it's not like me

To speak so forwardly

Straight to your core, I see

Straight to my mark

But you know exactly why

My spirit soars at night

You hear your voice inside

Inside my heart

Inside my heart

Chorus
