A Chilling Winter Wind

A chilling winter wind
Swept through her tortured soul,
It stripped her senses to the bone,
And left an empty hole.

Chorus:

Cryin, "Please, i beg of you,
Calm yourself.
You have destroyed A Sunny Day
Mother Nature cannot bare,
To see you carry on this way."

She hears it's fearsome howl,
Imprisoned in it's grasp-
She knows the havoc that it reeks,
And to it's bitter rasp she calls:

Chorus:

No wonder i moved to Florida!
