Someone remind me why I go through all this trouble
I know that there must be a reason why I care

Its days like these that make me question,
Is this even what I want?
But then I catch a glimpse of what it might be like

Maybe luck is on our side
(Theres no telling how it ends)
But we both know this would be the best thing for us
No one to tell us
(That time is running out)
When all I need is you and fate to be on our side this time

Someone remind me how it felt to be on the outside
Looking in wondering when it was our time

Its days like these that make me question,
Is this even what I want?
But then I catch a glimpse of what it might be like

Maybe luck is on our side
(Theres no telling how it ends)
But we both know this would be the best thing for us
No one to tell us
(That time is running out)
When all I need is you and fate to be on our side this
time

Im putting my faith in your hands
And that doesnt come easy
It doesnt come easy
Sometimes we all care just a little too much
But lifes too short for anything else

Dont worry
Ill be just fine
But something will always be missing
Dont worry \\
(Dont worry)
Ill be just fine

But something will always be missing

One of these days things go our way
And we can finally move on
One of these days things go our way
And we can finally move on

We'll finally move on with our lives
We'll finally move on with our lives
But it's not what we wanted
