I can hear the wind blowing -
As these thoughts race through my head now
Its been a long day
It feels like the night will not end
But through it all Ive found myself at peace
Maybe tonight Ill sleep

Tomorrow will take away
Everything we felt today
But if each day felt the same
Tomorrow wouldnt mean a thing

I could tell
That this night had to come before I could go on
And start to live again
And I know these thoughts may be lost
But not the feeling that I got when I
Finally sat back tonight

Tomorrow will take away
Everything we felt today
But if each day felt the same
Tomorrow wouldnt mean a thing
