All the things Ive kept to myself
Like how I feel alone, and I have no place to call home
I know I cant keep living this way
I guess I just missed out
But theres one thing you should know

Theres nothing wrong with waiting while you figure out just who you are (Just who you are)

I feel like you dont care at all
What will be left when its all gone?
I think its time you heard this from me

Cant believe it took me this long
But now everything has changed
Ever since Ive been on my own
Dont look at this as a mistake
Theres no telling where wed be had it gone differently

Theres nothing wrong with waiting while you figure out
just who you are (just who you are)

I feel like you dont care at all
What will be left when its all gone?
I feel like you dont care at all
What will be left when its all gone?
I think its time you heard this from me

I feel like you dont care at all
What will be left when its all gone?
I think its time you heard this from me
What will be left when its all gone?
When its all gone
Therell be no one left
