

Daniel Cohen

"For A While There Was You"

Visit "For A While There Was You" on MotoLyrics.com

I wasn't born to no rich mans home always spent most of my time alone some folks'll say they never saw me smile that I was born to old - to be a child

[chorus]

but for a while there was you strong enough to pull me through
for a while there was you sometimes that past's - too hard to lose with a face that never bore no stress it was the way you smoked that cigarette lived life in the present tense but in your eyes i was just a child when you lost your job and went out west oh you went out there on weightless steps

[chorus]

[bridge]

you were called the tragic sister giving nothing but a sigh though the winter on the river overshadowed your goodbyes spending late nights by the mirror, ain't the snowfall left you sleepless burning money like a picture all that's left right now is time

[chorus]

Visit Daniel Cohen page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.