I forget to Breathe
I forgot to tell you something I forgot to clear the air Forgot to apologize for nothing I forgot that life's not fair but I remember you swearing to me I remember you never cried I remember wanting to believe But now I don't remember why

So if we ever meet again and I'm standing here and you're standing there

Would you do me a favor and don't say what you wanna say
Would you take off that smile you do so well, don't stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me cause I cant breathe
When your there I forget to breathe

I can't believe after everything I hardly no you at all,
Cause your just so contradicting And words to you mean so much more than showing me when I need to be shown than proving it rightttt nowwww Than growing up than being who you could be But you will never turn around

you're standing there
Would you do me a favor and don't say what you
wanna say
Would you take off that smile you do so well, don't
stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me causeÂ... IÂ... cantÂ..... breathe when your there

No I cant breathe, when your near me, you no I cant see things clearly anyway

So if we ever meet again and I'm standing here and
you're standing there
Would you do me a favor and don't say what you
wanna say
Would you take off that smile you do so well, don't
stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me cause I
cant breathe
When your there
Cause I Â... ForgetÂ.... To Breathe
