I forgot to tell you something
I forgot to clear the air
Forgot to apologize for nothing
And I forgot that life's not fair

But I remember you swearing to me
I remember you never cried
I remember wanting to believe
But now I don't remember why

So if we ever meet again
And I'm standing here
And you're standing there
Would you do me a favor
and don't say what you wanna say

Would you take off that smile you do so well
And don't stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me
Cause I can't breathe when your there
I forget to breathe

I can't believe after everything
I hardly know you at all
Cause you're just so contradicting
And words to you mean so much more
Than showing me what I need to be shown
Than proving it right now
Than growing up and being who you could be
But you will never turn around

So if we ever meet again
And I'm standing here
And you're standing there
Would you do me a favor
And don't say what you wanna say

Would you take off that smile you do so well
And don't stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me
Cause I can't breathe when your there

No I can't breathe
when your near me
you know I can't see things clearly anyway

So if we ever meet again
And I'm standing here
And you're standing there
Would you do me a favor
And don't say what you wanna say

Would you take off that smile you do so well
And don't stand so close so I don't catch your smell
And would you do your best not to stare at me
Cause I can't breathe when your there
Cause I forget to Breathe
